

Bridges Out of Poverty

Pinarc is proud to once again host this highly acclaimed professional development opportunity in Ballarat.

Bridges out of Poverty is a two-day workshop that helps us to understand the challenges faced by poverty and how it shapes the interactions and experiences within a person's everyday life.

The concept of poverty is considered within the context of personal (internal) and external resources such as education, housing, meaningful relationships and health, rather than a lack of finances alone.

This training provides participants with a range of insights, ideas and tools to maximise the strengths and resources people have available to bridge the gaps created by poverty.

The solutions presented are practical and strategic, addressing everyday interactions with clients through to policy implications in every sector including justice, education, health, housing, education and employment.
